Endowments paid amounted to $3,200. There are now 1,807 lots in the cemetery for which payments have been made for perpetual care, 1,233 in the old section and 574 in the new part of the cemetery. BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD FAMILY PICNIC JUNE 20

Plans for a Boy Scout "Family Picnic" for scouts, scouters, explorers and their families and friends, to be held June 20 at Fuller Lake, were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District Committee held in the offices of Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Baltimore St.

Attorney Hartman, chairman of the district, said the picnic is "for the whole scout family, the youngsters and their parents, brothers, sisters" and will be a joint gathering of the Black Walnut and Conewago districts.

The program will begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 20, and continue until 10 o'clock that night. Each family will bring its own picnic supper. Some refreshments will be available at the commissary at Fuller Lake.

Nearly all of the Black Walnut scout troops will participate in the "Mis-kif" to be held at Haines Park, near York, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to reports at the meeting. The various scout units will move into camp Thursday afternoon. The Black Walnut field events are scheduled for Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Charles S. Harris, scout field executive, suggested that the best time for parents to visit the "Mis-Kif" will be Friday evening, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

At that time the Cub Scout show will be held, followed by the Scout Troop Jamboree at 7 o'clock, and the merit badge show.

Plans were advanced for two junior leaders to be sent to the national Boy Scout training camp at Camp Shiff, Menden, N. J., from August 16 to 28. A committee was selected to appoint the two representatives. Upon their return the two leaders will assist the council in a number of activities.

Field Executive Harris reported that the Explorer Scouts will visit Langley Field in July and make a canoe trip in Canada starting August 11.

The next meeting of the district committee will be held in September.

ASKING WINDOW EXHIBITS FOR PA. DUTCH FETE

The Associated Arts and Crafts Guild of Adams County today urged countians to place antiques in the store windows of the borough as they did for the sesquicentennial in 1950.

The Retail Merchants Association members have promised use of their windows for such a display in connection with the "Pennsylvania Dutch Fete" here June 26, 27 and 28, John Byers, president of the crafts guild said today.

At the same time he urged persons having ideas for additional activities in connection with the Pennsylvania Dutch Fete to contact him at Littlestown, or Mrs. A. H. Good, Gettysburg R. 4, so that other events can be scheduled for the three-day fete.

Dutch Church Service

Activities already scheduled include a program ending with a Pennsylvania Dutch Church service, with part of the sermon in "Der Dutch."

Rev. Franklin Glassmoyer, Spring Grove, will be the minister for the Dutch service to be held at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, June 28. Several of the hymns for the service will also be in Pennsylvania Dutch.

The program for the three-day fete will include an art show at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion home library, with daily door prizes; music by the Little German Band of Biglerville High School and the Johnnie Schmokers' German Band of Reading, with both bands presenting concerts at various spots through the town; an antique show sponsored by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Gettysburg annex; display of early county articles in the Adams County Historical Society rooms in the Court House; displays of antiques in the store windows; presentation Friday, June 26, at 7 p.m. of a show, "Patchwork," on the square by the Adams County Little Theater group; the crowning, Friday night, June 26, of the Apple Butter Queen at the Court House and square dancing in the Gettysburg armory conducted by the county Senior Extension Club.

Urge Dutch Costumes

Other events to be held Saturday, June 27, include an outdoor art show at the Court House, quilting party demonstrations, painting, ceramics making, weaving and lace making, a fish pond, apple butter cooking in an open kettle by the C. H. Musselman Co., Pennsylvania Dutch refreshments by the Great Conewago Presbyterian Missionary Society, games and contests for children at the Recreation park under sponsorship of the Recreation Association.

Byers urged countians to support the affair by turning out in Dutch costume during the three days. Urging that "everyone get into the program," he asked those with wagons and horses to use them on the streets during the "fete, to help build up the Pennsylvania Dutch atmosphere." He also asked church groups or others who may wish to hold Pennsylvania Dutch meals to do so during that time.

Because the fete has been nationally advertized in American magazine it is expected to draw a large crowd of visitors. The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the programs. Merchant are planning "Thrift Specials" in connection with the event.

Aid Tornado Victims

Doctors and civilians go from victim to victim at the tornado-struck government veterans project in Worcester, Mass. The rare tornado, which struck late Tuesday afternoon levelled hundreds of buildings in this central Massachusetts city.

Devastating Tornado Kills 76 And Injures 700, Makes 2500 Homeless And Causes Millions In Damage When It Hits Central Massachusetts

WORCESTER, Mass., (AP) — The most devastating tornado ever to strike New England smashed through populous Central Massachusetts last night with a toll of at least 76 dead and more than 700 injured.

At least 2,500 were left homeless in 11 communities through which the storm left a path of death and destruction.

At dawn, eyewitnesses said, the smashed area resembled pictures they had seen of the damage wreaked by the atom bombs on Japan in World War II.

Full Toll Unknown

Authoities said they won't know how high the death toll might reach until rescue workers finish digging through every pile of debris for those who might possibly still be buried.

The crushing wind caught many families in their homes as they were sitting down to their evening meal.

Others were killed in stores, factories and on the streets.

The tornado struck here less than 24 hours after a similar storm hit sections of Ohio and Michigan with a toll of 139 dead and 1,000 injured and 15 million dollars in property damage.

Covers 40 Square Miles

The storm's boiling center struck Worcester and adjacent towns but its destructive force was felt over an area of about 40 square miles.

Pittsfield in Western Massachusetts and Exeter, N. H., also felt the effects of the tornado but no deaths were reported there.

Worcester alone counted about 55 dead and 400 injures.

Big houses were lifted completely off their foundations and dropped yards away. Automobiles were tossed as much as 150 feet.

Debris was carried by the heavy wind as far as 40 miles away.

A big housing development in Worcester was almost completely leveled.

Housing Areas Damaged

Two housing developments in the suburban residential town of Holden were badly damaged.

A new five million dollar building of the Norton Company, a Worcester machine tool plant, was reduced to a tangled jumble of steel and bricks.

Two Catholic nuns and a priest were killed at Assumption College, Worcester, where a retreat was in progress. Some 100 priests from Northeastern states were attending the retreat.

The downtown section of Worcester, an industrial city of more than 200,000, escaped heavy damage. Most of the dead were reported from the residential neighborhoods and suburban towns.

The storm first appeared near Petersham, northwest of Worcester, and struck the towns of Barre, Rutland and Holden before hitting Worcester.

Then it followed a course through Shrewsbury, Southboro and Framingham and flicked at the towns of Franklin, Wrentham and Bellingham.

Woman Columnist Declares Ike Will Remodel Farm Home

A contract has been awarded and work will start soon on the remodeling of the old brick farmhouse on the Eisenhower farm near Gettysburg, according to a Washington woman columnist. Carpenters, the story says, will remove partitions and create a "spacious country home" and "interior decorators, under Mamie's talented and knowing eye, will then install carpeting, draperies and the choice of the Eisenhower furnishings now in storage, to transform the onetime Dutch farmer's abode into a summer White House."

The writer says the Eisenhowers expect the work to be far enough advanced before Washington's midsummer dog-days set in for them to use the house for a weekend retreat. She continues:

Ike Likes Bridge

"For Ike, who loves his 'dge almost as much as his golf, there'll be no shortage of favorite partners. The Eisenhowers' long-time friends, the George ('Presidents Who Have Known Me') Allens, will be spending much of the summer at their own remodeled farmhouse just a stone's—or monument's—throw down the road.

"Which reminds us of that quip of Mary Allen's we reported in this column shortly after the Eisenhowers purchased the property while Ike was president of Columbia University.

"The two couples had driven out to Gettysburg to survey their adjoining farms. The day was gray and misty, and while the men talked happily of the stock they would buy, the two women gazed dolefully out the living room window at the row on row of white tombstones."

Can't See Tombstones

(Editor's note: The author here reveals a striking lack of knowledge of the location of the Eisenhower farm in relation to the battlefield or the National Cemetery, since, from the farm, it is impossible to glimpse "the row on row of white tombstones.")

"Finally, shaking off her gloom, Mary exclaimed: "", Mamie, at least we can always dig up a fourth for bridge.'"

The article says the first family's vacation plans hinge on the progress of renovating. "If the Gettysburg house is not completely livable by the time Congress adjourns, probably around August 1—the Eisenhowers plan to spend that month in Denver at the cool, high-ceilinged abode of Mamie's mother, Mrs. John Doud."

DR. MILLER, 75, DIES OF INJURIES

Dr. John Floyd Miller, 75, dean of Marion, N. C., physicians, died recently of conditions attributed to injuries received in an automobile accident August 31, 1952, three and a half miles southwest of Gettysburg on the Fairfield Rd.

Dr. Miller and his wife, Mrs. Cottie Miller, 65, were patients at the Warner Hospital for some time following the accident. Mrs. Miller suffered fractures of both legs and a broken right wrist. Word of Dr. Miller's death was received by Mrs. Wayne M. Keet. The letter also said Mrs. Miller is still unable to walk except with a "walker," from room to room.

Dr. Miller, according to the letter, had been complaining of abdominal pains. He underwent an operation in Winston Salem for an internal condition attributed to the accident near here. He died suddenly the following day after his condition had been called satisfactory.

NEW $500,000 LOAN OK'D FOR ADAMS ELECTRIC

Approval of a $500,000 federal loan to the Adams Electric Cooperative through the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D. C., was announced today by Calvin A. Cluck, manager of the cooperative.

Mr. Cluck said the fund would be used for "system improvements," which will include approximately 200 new services, changeover from single to two and three-phase circuits with heavier wires in some sections, and construction of three new sub-stations in the Adams, York, Cumberland and part of Franklin County areas served by the Adams Electric.

Head offices of the cooperative are in Gettysburg, with a sub-office in Shippensburg.

Work To Begin At Once

Approximately 200 new customers were added last year, Mr. Cluck said and 200 more will be connected this year. The project does not involve extension of existing lines, but only service connections to new homes.

"Very few service connections are being made now to older buildings," Mr. Cluck said, 'but there has been considerable building of new homes in the area, to which service lines will be run."

The new substations will be located north of East Berlin, near Orrtanna and near Stewartstown. Work will be begun on the one near East Berlin immediately, Mr. Cluck said.

The Adams Rural Electric Cooperative has approximately 5,500 customers in the four-county area.

Sen. Taft's Hip Ailment Is "Serious"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) announced today his hip ailment "is a serious one" that will keep him from being active as Senate floor leader for the rest of this session of Congress.

Returning here from a four-day checkup by doctors in a New York hospital, Taft hobbled on to the Senate floor on crutches and said his administrative assistant, Jack Martin, would issue a statement later.

Martin's statement, approved by Taft, said:

"Senator Taft returned to the Senate today after a further consultation regarding his hip condition with leading doctors.

Needs Much Rest

"They have advised him that the condition is a serious one, and that while he can attend the Senate and keep up with his work there, he will have to take a good deal of rest, and pursue a course of treatment which will prevent his being active as floor leader during the balance of the session."

Sen. Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, acted as Senate leader today even though Taft was on the floor briefly.

The majority leader, who regulates the flow of legislation to the Senate floor, operates from an aisle seat and as a matter of practice gets preferential recognition by the presiding officer.

Minor Sensation

Hence the position is one of great power over the law-making machinery.

The Taft announcement caused a minor sensation among senators and colleagues because of the key role he has been taking in the Eisenhower administration.

The 63-year-old Taft had registered at New York Hospital Sunday as "Howard Roberts" to avoid public attention. He had been treated earlier in Washington and Cincinnati hospitals.

PRESIDENT TO MAKE SPEECHES IN FIVE STATES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flew out of Washington today for five days of speechmaking and vacation, heading first for Minneapolis and an address on the international situation.

The White House plane Columbine took off from National Airport at 9:17 a. m., EST.

Right up to the last minute the Chief Executive obviously was keeping in closest touch with the developing truce talks in Korea and the threats to their success. The prepared text of his Minneapolis speech, held up for possible revision, was not delivered to newsmen until just before the plane was ready to take off.

Speaks In Five States

The tour will take the President from Minneapolis to North Dakota, South Dakota, New Hampshire and New York for five speeches.

Standing on the ramp of his plane, the President gave cameramen a laugh when, asked to wave a traditional goodbye, he shouted above the propellor roar:

"How about one without a wave —that would be something different," so, for the first time in many a takeoff, cameramen took their shots without a presidential arm salute.

Eisenhower also plans a day of golf and perhaps some trout fishing in the South Dakota Black Hills area, where President Coolidge used to vacation.

M'SHERRYSTOWN PLANS SEWERS

The McSherrystown Borough Council Monday night devoted nearly its entire monthly session to a discussion of sewer extensions, made necessary, borough officials said, by the development of new home areas.

A month ago council decided to advertise for bids for the extension of a sewer line in the Cannon, Fourth and Fifth Sts. section. Borough Solicitor J. Francis Yake Jr., is preparing an ordinance. Bids will be asked when the ordinance is adopted, probably at the July meeting, officials said.

Probably next on the list of sewer extensions will be the Stambaugh St. area, to be followed by new sewer lines on North St. Extended. Surveys have been made of these areas, where numerous homes have been built and more will be. All of the lots in the new subdivisions have been sold, it was reported.

Additions to the present sewage disposal plant are nearing completion, with only the installation of a new pump and the grading around the plant remaining to be done. The additions cost $30,000.

Council Monday night referred to its Building and Property Committee the proposal for the erection of a fence around the playground at the east end of North St.

OLD HAT

"You need a new hat," said the women to me.
"I still like the old one," said I.
But since with the women it's best to agree,
A new one I promised to buy.

A new hat, a brown and a tan and a gray
I stood at the mirror and tried.
But regardless of all that the clerk had to say,
I, one by one, tossed them side.

Then I tried on a hat that felt snug on my head.
"Just right," I remarked, "it appears."
"I can't sell you that one," the sales fellow said.
"It's the hat you've been wearing for years."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE OBVIOUS THING

Most of us, at times at least, bother a great deal about a problem that might be to us very simple and attemptable. We fuss about not having the proper tools, or the time isn't right, or there are complications envisioned that might mean too much trouble.

The obvious things to do is usually the last idea that enters our heads!

Usually, to do the obvious thing means just a little simple thinking — an art that is all too rare among men.

When we get "stumped" we ordinarily hunt up someone else to lift our trouble, or inquire for an expert or someone who has formed the habit of figuring things out for himself. (This latter type of human being, by the way, is the sort from which the expert is formed!)

The expert in anything does the obvious thing — and his mind centers upon it at once.

The obvious thing also is the natural thing to do — the thing that is logical. Animals and the inhabitants of the wild do the obvious thing, through instinct — so, therefore, the natural thing for them!

Those who have formed the habit of quick and accurate decisions owe it all to obvious and independent thinking. Their minds are keyed to direct lines of thinking. Irrelevant affairs are not a part of their program.

When puzzled or caught in a problem, think of the obvious thing to do under the existing circumstance — and the chances are that you will come out all right with it!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "It's Blows That Count."

GROWING CROPS TO MAKE MULCH

So many readers have written the editor about a recent statement here that special forage crops can be grown to provide summer mulching materials and also for extra green vegetation to place on compost heaps that additional advice on the subject is timely.

More and more, as normal rainfall is insufficient to meet vegetable, fruit and ornamental plant requirements and droughts become more frequent, summer mulching brings greater benefits. Too, gardeners may profitably invest the time mulching saves from cultivation in growing more and other crops. All in all, mulching offers numerous direct benefits which all growers may well study. Of course, this practice is usually limited by the supply of mulching materials available. But the suggestion that gardeners may grow special props to provide additional green matter opens new doors of opportunity.

There are several hardy annual plants that may be easily and quickly grown for this purpose. Sudan grass perhaps heads the list because it is ready for its first cutting in four weeks or slightly less after seeding, and growth may be cut over and over all summer, thereby furnishing a maximum of vegetation for mulching and use on compost heaps or for immediate turning under for soil improvement.

Sudan grass demands a fairly deep and fertile loam but is not by any means particular in its requirements. Seed should be sown at once, broadcast at the rate of about an ounce to 100 square feet or slightly more seed to this area will not prove harmful. The first cutting should be made when the grass is several inches tall and before the stems become woody. All subsequent cuttings should likewise be made to prevent woody growth. The final growth before fall frosts come should be turned under for soil improvement.

Rye may be grown in a similar manner, although it does not thrive so well under repeated cuttings as does Sudan grass. Oats, wheat, barley or any of the other cereals serve in the same general role.

Perhaps the more profitable phase of this practice is found in utilization of the extra green materials not needed for immediate mulching purposes for soil improvement. Such cuttings may be turned under at once or placed on the compost heap to decay. In either way vast quantities of priceless organic matter is produced for deepening shallow soils and lightening hard soils.

To be fully effective a summer mulch should be several inches deep, with additional materials added after the first coating has wilted and dried. The idea is to carpet the soil sufficiently to prevent weed growth and to conserve the moisture supply. When harvest time comes for the mulched crop, the material may be raked aside and used again to mulch another later crop or piled on the compost heap. Or in case there is room, the material may be stored for use next spring. Some gardeners stock their dry used mulch material like farmers stack hay. It should, of course, be dried thoroughly before it is stacked.

Or again, an ample supply of materials may be saved to carpet bare soil over winter to prevent erosion from the "splashing" effects of rain. In fact, there are numerous rples in which all such vegetation may be utilized.

NEWS ABOUT STRAWBERRIES

Red stele, a root disease of strawberries, was first discovered in the United States in Illinois in 1932. Since that date it has spread until it now occurs generally throughout the North and East. Many home gardeners have abandoned strawberry growing because of this trouble. For these as well as commercial growers it is good news to learn that tests conducted at the Ohio Experiment Station show that Fairland, Vermilion, and Red Crop varieties are resistant. Red Crop is outyielding all other varieties in Ohio. The Fairland is supplanting Premier where strawberries are grown for freezing. Gardeners in this region should test all three of these varieties to determine their adaptation this far east.

Perhaps many gardeners will want to know the symptoms of red stele in order to identify the trouble when it occurs. Early spring stunting or dwarfing is usually the first signs that red stele is present. This is followed by wilting and dying of the older leaves. In most cases the new spring leaves are smaller and may be slightly bluish. Inspection reveals that all or most of the smaller roots are destroyed and only the larger ones are left. In late stages the central or cylinder root (called stele) is affected and turns a dark red. Plants are infected first in lower parts of the field. Reddening of the plant crown should not be confused with red stele symptoms. There is no cure.

More and more evidence is accumulating that strawberries need phosphorus as their chief fertilizer. Tests comparing benefits from nitrogen applications and side dressings of phosphorus indicate the latter is by far the more profitable in terms of yields, fruit quality and plant health.

A 20 per cent superphosphate should be applied in early spring at the rate of 300 to 450 pounds per acre. Growers who use summer mulch apply the fertilizer on the mulch.

Many western growers are emphasizing more phosphorus before planting, applying it on each side of the row and about four inches below the surface, where feeder roots may later reach the plant food but not come into contact with it during or soon after transplanting.

Apparently phosphorus stimulates stronger root growth and this in turn results in more and stronger crown development. And after all, strawberry yields depend directly on the number of fruit or crown buds formed in late summer and early fall, and these in turn depend on general crown vigor.

All strawberry growers should experiment with a few representative plants, not only with different amounts of fertilizer, but with phosphorus alone, phosphorus and nitrogen, and nitrogen alone.

One grower reports that he applies a cupful of water to each plant at transplanting time, this having phosphorus added at the rate of two quarts of commercial phosphoric acid to 50 gallons of water.

Among experiments worth conducting on a few tests plants are the comparative merits of acid phosphate and raw phosphate rock.

Many commercial growers believe that nitrogen applications in the spring increase gray rot of strawberries through stimulation of excessive foliage. A new fungicide known as Captan is showing effectiveness in reducing gray rot, applied when plants are in full bloom.

Kazak Tribesmen Flee Communists

NEW DELHI (AP) — During 1951, 375 Kazak tribesmen entered Kashmir after escaping from Communist-occupied Sinkiang Province of China, Indian Deputy Home Minister B. N. Datar says.

Datar says 172 of them have gone to Turkey, and six to Mecca. Twenty-five died, due to exhaustion after trekking across the most inhospitable Himalayan terrain and other causes.

The remaining 172 are still in Kashmir and the government of India is trying to afford facilities if they want to go to any other country for resettlement.

The government so far has spent $9,030 on these refugees, Datar says.

TRAVEL RULES SUGGESTED FOR SUMMER TRIPS

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

This is the "I'd like to get away from it all" season.

Young people are restless and yearning for adventure. And why not? The time and tide are absolutely right.

Travel often bring swith it the responsibility of coping with an adult world, whether you go to the mountains, seashore or city, or dive for pieces of eight and other lost treasure in the briny deep.

Perhaps this vacation season you'll ride on a train, without the guiding hand of Mom and Pop—to help you order food, to tip for you, and to shush when you feel giddy. When you travel alone or with companions of your own age, you are faced with all of these problems at once, and perhaps the puzzled gazes of adult passengers who do not understand your gay spirit.

Some excellent advice that is worth jotting in your diary comes from Ann Elgar Stevenson, coordinator of service, maintenance and decorations of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway passenger department. Ann, who is young and pretty herself, knows how young people feel in this predicament. They want to do the right thing, but they want to have fun, too. She suggests the following rules for traveling by train:

Clothes To Wear

1. Dress inconspicuously. Boys should wear jackets and ties. Well-dressed girls board trains wearing hats, but may take them off en route. Dresses with sleeves to the elbow, or longer, are in order. The tailored suit is perfect for traveling. Neat, dark shoes with closed toes look well even in summer, and stockings should be worn.

2. Young people may feel free to walk through the train, but should be quiet and inconspicuous in their comments and manner, and not "do" the train too many times.

3. If coach and Pullman cars are separated, stay on your own side of the fence. People who pay more for Pullman passage object to coach passengers taking up space in their lounge cars. The conductor can tell you if your coach has lounge car surroundings you can use.

4. By all means do not sit down in a sleeping car room—even briefly—if you have not engaged it for the trip.

5. Most dining car menus include several low-priced items—but not so low, of course, as in counter service. If you can afford to spend $1.50 for a sandwich, dessert and beverage, including tip, you are almost certainly on safe ground in settling at a table for any meal. If in doubt about prices, ask the steward quietly to show you a menu before you sit down.

Hints On Tips

When you have finished eating, do not linger if other people are waiting to eat. Never tie up a table meant for food service.

6. Red caps expect a set fee, varying from 15c to 25c per piece (each suitcase or package no matter how small means a separate fee)' plus something additional. Inquire the fee. Then add something extra, if you like. Coach porters are instructed to help you with your luggage if you ask them—whether or not you tip them. Twenty-five cents for a daytime trip should please, 35c if you are an overnight passenger. Pullman porters are tipped, usually at the rate of 35c a night for an upper berth, 50c a night for a lower berth, roomette or shared bedroom, 75c or a dollar if you occupy a bedroom singly. If you ask for much extra service, or have great quantities of baggage, you may want to scale that up.

7. When you travel Pullman, the porter should offer to show you how all room fixtures work. If he negects to do so, and you don't know, ask him. It is best to take an inventory at once, and if you need drinking cups, towels or anything normally supplied, ring the bell and ask promptly. Be sure that you understand how heat and air conditioning controls in your room are adjusted.

Although the all-room sleeping car prevails on most railroads today, there are some which have upper and lower berth cars, according to Ann Stevenson. If you draw one of these, you may find yourself walking the aisle to the washroom in your nightclothes. So carry slippers and a dark, trim dressing gown. A long coat will do as a cover up. Whether you have a berth, section, roomette or room, try not to disturb the porter in the night unless it is necessary.

Indians Edge Senators For Sixth Straight Win As Yanks Nose Out Tigers; Braves Go On

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Overshadowed by the big bad Yankees, the hopeful Cleveland Indians are brewing their own private little winning streak in their Ohio wigwam. If they can nurse it to the boiling point by the weekend, there may yet be some excitement in the American League pennant race.

The second-place Indians, 5½ games back of New York, have won seven out of eight and six in a row on their current home stand against the Eastern clubs. Two games remain against Washington before the Yanks come in Friday night for a four - game series.

While the New Yorkers have been blowing down most of their foes with amazing ease in winning a dozen straight, the Indians have had to scramble all the way. Three of their victories, including last night's 2-1 squeaker over Washington, have been by one - run margins. And in five of the games they have had to come from behind, or break a tie, to win.

The Detroit Tigers tried mightily to expand their one-game winning streak at the expense of the Yankees, but failed, 3-2, when Tom Gorman stopped them cold after they had chased starter Vic Raschi.

Chicago climbed back into a third-place tie with Washington by defeating Philadelphia, 5-1, on a three-hit effort by Billy Pierce. The Boston Red Sox outlasted the Browns in 93-degree St. Louis heat, 6-5.

Milwaukee protected its one-game National League lead, whipping the New York Giants, 4-2, after second-place Brooklyn had snapped Cincinnati's five - game winning streak with four home runs, 10-6.

A three-run pinch-hit homer by Eddie Pellagrini helped the Pittsburgh Pirates end their five-game losing spell at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-4. Philadelphia edged Chicago, 10-9, on Del Ennis' ninth inning home run.

After spotting the Yankees two runs in the first inning the Tigers squared matters in the fourth. But Gorman took over with two runs home, one out and a man on base and held the cellar dwellers hitless and helpless until the ninth. They managed a pair of singles in the ninth but couldn't move the tying run past second base.

Home runs by Hoot Evers and Gene Stephens helped Boston build a 6-2 lead at St. Louis, just enough to withstand a three-run Brownie rally in the eighth.

Home runs came wholesale at Ebbets Field with the Dodgers getting four and Cincinnati two. One of the Cincinnati blows was by Ted Kluszewski, his 17th of the year, tying him for the league lead with Brooklyn's Roy Campanella and Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews. The other was by Gus Bell. Carl Furillo, Gil Hodges, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider cleared the fences for Brooklyn.

Warren Spahn pitched and batted the Braves to victory over the Giants. The veteran left-hander hit a home run and two singles, driving in two runs, while scattering 10 New York hits.

Pinch hitters saved the day for Pittsburgh. Trailing 4-3 in the eighth the Pirates rallied as Frank Thomas singled and pinch hitter Johnny Lindell walked, Pete Castiglione, another pinch hitter, singled and Pellagrini followed with his home run.

The Cubs hit four home runs at Philadelphia but didn't have the pitching to hold the Phillies.

BEN CARDONI HAS 1-HITTER

By The Associated Press

Big Ben Cardoni, the Eastern League's most valuable player last year, came within one pitch of a no-hit ball game last night.

The Scranton hurler had two out and two strikes on Williamsport's Joe Taylor in the seventh inning when the league's leading hitter lashed out a single.

Cardoni retired the next batter to end the game with a 2-0 shutout. The Miners went on to win the second game of the doubleheader, 11-4.

In other games, Binghamton kept a full game ahead of Reading by beating Albany, 3-1, while the Indians trimmed Wilkes-Barre, 8-5, and Schenectady slapped Elmira, 7-1.

Cardoni, who was traded by Albany last month, walked only one batter and struck out seven. It was his fourth straight victory and his second shutout in a row.

Kid Gavilan Meets Scortichini Tonight

DETROIT, (AP) —Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, picking up "rent" money while waiting to meet a suitable title challenger, faces Italo Scortichini in a televised 10-round non-title bout at Olympic Stadium tonight.

Making his first appearance in the Motor City since 1949, Gavilan is a top-heavy favorite against the unknown, unranked but unafraid Italian welterweight. He's expected to win so easily, in fact, that no odds are being quoted around town.

According to the American Bowling Congress the sport started 7,700 years ago when an inventive Egyptian devised a nine-pin game.

Ted Atkinson was the top jockey for the third time at Hialeah when he rode 37 winners during the 40-day season recently concluded.

LITTLE LEAGUE ADVANCES FOUR MINOR PLAYERS

Four youngsters were moved up from the minor league to the Little League during a meeting of league officials Tuesday evening at the fire engine house.

In an effort to bolster the Tigers, who have lost all of their contests to date, the following were added to the roster: James Townsend, Tommy Crist and Robert Cullison. The Giants also obtained Johnny Millard.

It was reported that collections taken during the games have been very satisfactory. A thank-you letter was ordered sent to the Lentz Legion post for the donation of several dozen baseballs which are being used in practices.

All teams were represented at the meeting which was also attended by umpires. Richard Altemose, vice president, presided in the absence of President Charles Smith.

Says Boat Crossed Bow Before Crash

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The veteran skipper of the Pan Massachusetts testified yesterday that the Phoenix cut across his bow just before the two oil tankers came together in a fiery collision in the Delaware River south of Wilmington Saturday.

Capt. Reginald Gross told a Coast Guard board of inquiry the Phoenix was outbound and west of the channel center line as the vessels approached each other, but that after swinging right to round a buoy it then turned hard to port and into the path of the Pan Massachusetts.

Two crewmen were killed and a third missing in the collision and ensuing fire and explosions which sent eighty-two other seamen over the sides of the tankers into the flaming, oil-soaked water. Some swam ashore and others were picked up in small rescue craft.

Mrs. Bender was hostess for the day.

VOTE TODAY ON COMMERCE ACT

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Senate-passed bill to abolish the State Commerce Department—one of the major Chesterman recommendations—was slated to be called up tonight for final action in the House.

House leaders of both parties said their members would be "on their own" in voting on the measure—listed under a special order of business.

Accompanying the commerce bill is another Chesterman proposal to merge the present departments of Health, Welfare and Public Assistance into one super agency.

Gov. John S. Fine told the lawmakers several weeks ago he personally was opposed to the idea of abolishing the Commerce Department but agreed with most of the other recommendations.

Aides to the governor reportedly were seeking Democratic help to prevent the abolishing the Commerce Department, which is headed by Eine's long-time friend, Andrew J. Sordoni, of Wilkes Barre.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday approved a one year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act beyond June 12 as urged by President Eisenhower.

Committee members said the vote, in a closed session, was 23 to 2 for a compromise version of the Trade Act which represents a victory for the administration.

HOGAN SHOOTS 77; 11 BEHIND CHICK HARBERT

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Ben Hogan's back is okay, but his spirit isn't.

And unless the latter mends as quickly as the former, the wiry little guy who was almost everybody's choice to win the U. S. Golf Association's 53rd Open championship—for the fourth time—may have trouble qualifying for the main event, which starts tomorrow.

Hogan, who won three of the last four Open championships in which he played, was worried about his back when he left the 18th green at the Oakmont Country Club yesterday.

New "Cut Off" Line

He had just shot a 77, five over par for the trying 6,916-yard course. As it turned out, that was 11 strokes behind Chick Harbert's brilliant round at the Pittsburgh Field Club which saved the first day of qualifying play from mediocrity. And it was only one stroke below the "cut off" line dividing the low 149 and ties who may qualify for the main tournament from the also rans.

As he made his drive on the seventh hole, Ben felt a painful snap in his back, just above the shoulders, and from there on his back hurt every time he took a full backswing.

Hogan underwent osteopathic treatment at his Pittsburgh hotel last night and later reported that two vertebrae which had slipped slightly out of line had been restored to their places.

"I feel fine now and I'll be all right," he said.

Harbert And Middlecoff

But that didn't include Ben's lack of enthusiasm for the extra 36-hole qualifying test ordered by the USGA this year. That part of the tournament ends today with Hogan and others of the group who played at Oakmont yesterday shifting to the Pittsburgh Field Club and Harbert and the Field Club section moving to Oakmont.

There was every indication that a score of about 158 would be needed to qualify for the final 72 holes. That meant Hogan couldn't afford to do any worse than he did on the first round—one of the worst he has had in competition in recent years.

"I wasn't bearing down," Ben commented wryly. "Sometimes you can't make yourself do it. I feel that way about some tournaments—and here you have to bear down some or you don't qualify."

Harbert carded 32-34--66 for the best competitive round ever registered at the tight and treacherous Field Club course.

Cary Middlecoff's 35-34--69 was the day's best round at the big Oakmont course.

IKE CALLS FOR TOTAL DEFENSE AGAINST REDS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — President Eisenhower said today all the free nations of the world must stand together in the "total defense" against communism. He declared the United States, even though the strongest nation on earth, "cannot make our own decisions, fight and stand as only we ourselves may choose."

"There is no such thing as partial unity. That is a contradiction in terms," Eisenhower said in a speech prepared for the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Defense Budget Stand

The President also took occasion to defend his controversial cut in the Truman Administration's Air Force budget, declaring his program will mean "fewer planes in theory, more planes in fact—MORE SWIFTLY and less expensively."

In pointed words, Eisenhower declared that the insistence of his critics on "magic numbers"—an apparent reference to those insisting on a 143-wing Air Force—is "not reasonable."

The President named no names in today's speech, his first on a five-state tour that will keep him away from Washington until Sunday night, but he elaborated some of the views he expressed after Sen. Robert A. Taft's recent speech proposing that this country "forget the United Nations" if current armistice talks in Korea fail to stop the fighting.

Unity With Allies

Taft later said he didn't mean this country should "go it alone" but rather that the United States should form an alliance with Britain and those other countries willing to fight communism in Asia actively.

Outlining what he called "our whole concept" of the conduct of united affairs, Eisenhower hammered on the theme that unity with allies of the free world is necessary the globe over.

He said:

"A total struggle—let us never forget it—calls for a total defense. As there is no weapon too small—no arena too remote—to be ignored, so there is no free nation too humble to be forgotten. All of us have learned—first from the onslaught of Nazi aggression, then from Communist aggression—that all free nations must stand together, or they shall fall separately."

And this "essential, indispensable unity," he declared, "means compromise."

Charley Gelbert's Lafayette Nine Is Cinderella-Type Ball Club; Enters Little Series

By BOB KELLY
Easton Express Sports Writer

EASTON, Pa.,—The Lafayette College nine, District 2 NCAA champions and one of the eight teams in the college Little World Series starting tomorrow in Omaha, Neb., is a "Cinderella"-type club coached by Charley Gelbert, shortstop on the 1931 St. Louis Cardinals before a hunting accident cut short his major league career, the Maroon will be a dark horse in the tournament.

The team flies to Omaha today, goes into the tourney with a record of 17 victories, three defeats and three ties. Only two games were lost in college competition. The third defeat was suffered at the hands of Fort Eustis, Va., when Willie Mays, former New York Giants Outfielder, beat them almost singlehanded.

Has Sophomore Hurler

Gelbert will be pinning his pitching hopes on Ronald Owen, sophomore lefthander from Wyoming, Pa., who won nine, lost none and is sporting a 0.981 earned run average. In 73 innings he has fanned 100, walked 22 and yielded 50 hits and 8 runs.

The No. pitcher is Bob Ketchel, tall righthander from Chicago, Ill., who was the winning hurler when Lafayette beat Penn State, 5-3, for the District title. He has a 1-2 record.

Roger Gordon, sophomore righthander from Wilmington, Del., has stood out in relief, winning three without a loss.

Can Hurl and Hit

Karl Dutt, righthander from nearby Wilson Borough, also has been used in relief and has one win and one loss. Dutt could easily grab the spotlight at Omaha either with his pitching or his hitting. A southpaw batter, he frequently has been used in the outfield and as a pinch hitter.

Bill Hogarty, left handed hitter and rightfielder, is the club's top swatter with a .358 average in 22 games. He is a sophomore from Princeton, N. J.

Jack Ketrick, Chester, Pa., senior, leads off and plays center. Gelbert converted him from an infielder to take advantage of his speed on the basepaths and ability toohit the long ball.

HOLDEN, Mass. (AP)—One of the most tragic stories of the tornado was told by Mrs. Ruth Oslund.

She said she ran outdoors with her 2-week-old daughter in her arms, believing they would be safer outside.

The wind immediately whipped the baby away.

More than 150 men searched for hours early today but were unable to find the child.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Ray Sterling, 21, of Quincy, today told how the tornado picked up his car and tossed it about 150 feet.

Sterling and his mother, Mrs. Anne P. Sterling, 48, who also was in the car, were injured.

The youth said:

"We were driving along the Worcester Turnpike in Fayville. I stopped at a gas station when I saw the tornado coming.

5 Yanks, Sealed In 2 Tanks 46 Hours Escape Red Death

WITH THE U. S. 40th DIVISION Korea (AP)—For 46 terrifying hours five men were sealed in two disabled tanks while Communist soldiers clambered over the turrets and yanked at the hatches.

They were officially listed as missing in action.

The five men had no food.

They were afraid, and they prayed.

The tanks were disabled while firing in support of South Korean troops locked in combat with the Reds at Luke the Gook's Castle in eastern Korea last week.

Monday night the two tanks moved into the line to support the ROKS. At daybreak the tanks were still there—alone except for the enemy. And a few minutes later both were crippled by a barrage of mortar shells and machine gun fire.

Hatches Are Secured

Inside the disabled hulks were Sgt. Robert Vogel of Allentown, Pa.; Pvt. Chester Stanislawski, Milwaukee, Wis.; PFC Joseph Ramsey, Bell City, Mo.; Pvt. Edward Blanchard, Odanah, Wis.; and Sgt. George M. Turoscy, Allentown, Pa.

All hatches were secured as the Reds swarmed down the hill. The imprisoned men used most of their scant supply of ammunition, then sat tight as the Communists climbed on the tanks, tested the locked hatches and fired the .50 caliber machine gun atop one of them. The gun jammed after firing eight rounds.

Finally the Red troops moved on and the men inside the tanks waited and hoped.

Men Are Rescued

Tuesday night Vogel heard an American voice outside his tank. It was Lt. Charles G. Madson of West Chicago, Ill., who had crept through the Reds to the disabled tanks.

Madson briefed Vogel and his crew then moved to the other tank where he waited through the night and all day Wednesday. At dusk Wednesday the five tankers and Madson slipped out of the battered tanks and broke for the Allied lines.

Two hours later they were safe.

"We all read our Bibles and prayed," Turoscy said. "We prayed hard."

Congress Extends Defense Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has voted a year's extension of defense production legislation in much limited form.

The bill still is subject to adjustment of differences in the drafts approved by the House and Senate.

The House, before passing the bill yesterday, turned down any standby controls over wages, prices and rents. The Senate had provided power for the President to clamp a 90-day emergency freeze over these, but only if Congress declared war or authorized the freeze by resolution.

BLAMES FINE FOR DISMISSAL OF "GOOD" MEN

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine stood accused today of using his office "as a tool in a factional political fight."

The charge was made in a speech on the Senate floor by Sen. Francis P. McCusker (R-Phila). He said that a number of "very efficient and capable men" on state jobs in Philadelphia are being fired on orders from the governor.

McCusker said that the action is "destroying the morale of various state departments" in the state's largest city.

"There doesn't seem to be any cause for these dismissals," he added.

Though he did not introduce any resolution or bill, McCusker said he felt the Senate should "do something" to reinstate the dismissed persons.

The political factions in question were not mentioned by McCusker, though he is usually linked with the Philadelphia GOP group headed by ex-sheriff Austin Meehan.

Meehan's group was recently on the losing side in the primary election against another GOP faction headed by City Chairman William Hamilton Jr.

Union Pact Gives 3-Year's Vacation, Pay

CHICAGO (AP)—A radio and phonograph manufacturing company has signed a union contract providing that employes after 10 years of service will get a year's vacation with pay or double pay for time worked during the year.

Paul M. Davidson, president of Hedco Mfg. Co., said the contract signed yesterday with the AFL Electrical Workers Union was made in the hopes of reducing employe turnover and attracting new employes. The firm has 155 employes, mostly women.

RUSSIA WILL GRANT EXIT VISAS TO FOUR

MOSCOW (AP)—The U. S. Embassy announced last night that the Soviet government plans to grant permission to leave Russia to the Russian wives of two American citizens and two Russian-born minor daughters of a woman embassy employe.

The announcement added that the Soviet government also has under consideration cases of other Soviet wives of American citizens desiring exit visas.

Those to be allowed to depart are the wives of Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press bureau chief in Moscow, and Robert Tucker of Kansas City, Mo., an embassy employe attached to the Press Reading Service, and the two children of Mrs Ethel Balashova of Los Angeles, Calif.

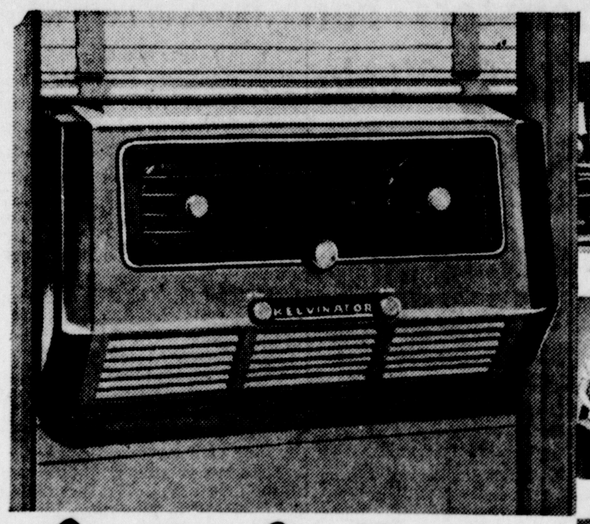

Mrs. Balashova was divorced from a Soviet citizen in a Soviet court which granted her custody of their two girls.

(The United States told the U. N. General Assembly in December, 1948, that as of that date 350 Soviet wives and 65 Soviet husbands of American citizens were being refused permission by Russia to leave the country. Until today, there has been no announcement that any of these have been given exit visas.)

State Is Asked To Take Over Road

HARRISBURG (AP) — Nearly five more miles of a rural route in Franklin County would be placed under state maintenance under terms of a new bill before the Senate.

Introduced yesterday by Sen. Donald P. McPherson (R-Adams), the measure would place 12.5 miles, as compared to the present 7.78 miles of the road under state control.

This would mean it would stretch from the Maryland state line to a point in Peters Township intersecting Route 341 a mile east of Markes, Franklin County.

Presbyterians May Reunite Branches

MONTREAT, N. C. (AP)—Presbyterians of the North and South today apparently were closer to reunion than at any time since the church split as a result of the Civil War.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (Southern) yesterday approved for study by its 84 presbyteries a plan to join with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. (Northern). The reunion plan also would include the United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Frank W. Price of Richmond, Va., moderator of the Southern church, said today the assembly's unanimous action on the reunion issue "gives assurance that the church will strive to move forward as one church."

Fears of a split within the denomination over the issue "have been reduced," the moderator said.

Control Cannibalism—One of the newer ways to control cannibalism in the poultry flock is by "tipping" or paring off the ends of the beak. F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist, says there is now an electric debeaker, which removes about one-fourth of the upper beak by means of an electrically heated knife which cauterizes the cut.

Stop Worm Attack—All of the worms that commonly attack cabbage and related crops can be controlled with dusts or sprays containing rotenone, marlate or DDT. Get specific recommendations for garden insect control from your county agricultural agent.

Inspect Hay Mows — Penn State extension agricultural engineers believe that, to be on the safe side, you ought to inspect your hay mows at least twice a week during the first two months after the hay has been stored. Fire from spontaneous combustion usually starts within that period.

Prevent Bloat—Hungry and greedy animals are the ones most subject to bloat, says Robert Olmstead, Penn State extension dairy specialist. To prevent it, give cows hay or other fibrous material before turning them out to pasture.

Supplemental Irrigation—Sprinkler irrigation when properly designed, installed and managed can be used on all fields with no runoff and minimum soil erosion, reports Henry Wooding, Penn State extension agricultural engineer.

Transplant Correctly—When setting out vegetable plants, dig a hole big enough to receive the root system without serious cramping, reminds Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension garden specialist.

Replant Flower Bulbs — When tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and other bulbous plants produce a large amount of foliage and not many flowers, it is time to dig, separate and replant them. John Meszaros, Penn State extension floriculturist, suggests waiting, however, until the foliage has turned brown.

Treat for Red Mites—Be sure to treat the perches and perch supports of the range shelter for control of red mites, remind Penn State extension poultry specialists. Use old engine oil, carbolineum, or a good red mite paint. Usually one application of either carbolineum or red mite paint is good for the entire season.

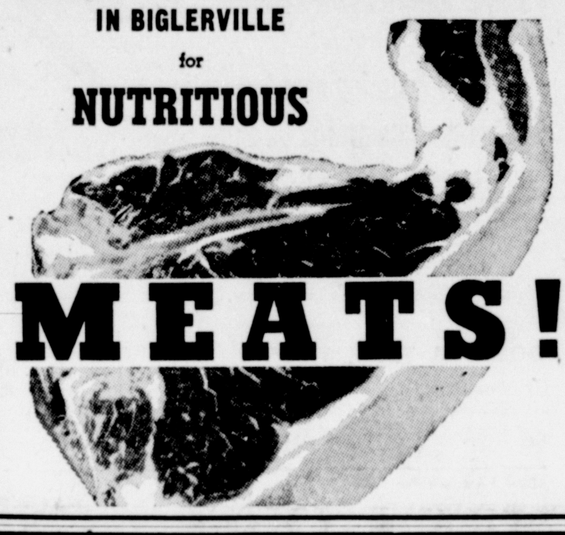

Thin Peaches — Well-grown peaches that are big enough and have enough color to command premium prices will enable the grower to operate more profitably, says Carl Bittner, Penn State extension fruit specialist. When peaches are thinned to the proper number on a tree, there will not be so many cull peaches to harvest and pack.

Farm Income Dropping—It is estimated that farmer's net income this year will be about a billion dollars less than in 1952, Penn State extension agricultural economists report farmers' costs down somewhat, but less proportionately than their gross income.

Save Hay Crop—Hay is the number one farm crop in Pennsylvania, in acres harvested and in dollar value. It is estimated that a third of the crops is lost every year by weather damage. Joseph McCurdy, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, recommends the mow hay drier.

Dairy Breeding—Joe Taylor, Penn State extension dairy specialist, reports 40 per cent of Pennsylvania cows were bred artificially last year and 71 per cent of these cows were bred to proved sires.

Fourth Flood

This village was hit for the fourth time this summer by a flash flood which poured down on the town Saturday evening following torrential rains which accompanied a severe electrical storm. At the height of the storm, the York Springs Fire Company was called out to help fight the fire which burned the barn and some other buildings on the former Boyer farm about seven miles south of York Springs on Route 15.

After returning to York Springs they were kept busy pumping out cellars until 4 a.m. The flood caused considerable damage. The property owned by Bruce Wagner and occupied by Mrs. E. S. Myers and Mrs. Anna Rhodes were inundated. Water filled the cellars and came up through the floor flooding the first floor and leaving a heavy mud deposit. The warehouse of the Smith Store was flooded as was the yard of the Smith property. A number of residences in the lower part of town were also flooded. Mrs. E. S. Myers and Mrs. Ann Rhodes were away from home when the disaster struck. Mrs. Lavinia Hoff, Mrs. Rhodes' sister; her mother, Mrs. Everhart, and brother, John, made entry and were cleaning up the mud when Mrs. Rhodes arrived home. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhodes, who live in the lower part of town, were also away from home. Her father, Ira Coulson, and friends and neighbors, including Mrs. James Behney, Miriam Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Coulson, Shelvy May and Rev. Amos Meyers, worked until 1 a.m. to restore the property.

Note to Brides: Don't use your pastry board for cutting or chopping, or its smooth surface is likely to be damaged. You'll need that smooth surface when you roll or knead dough unless you use a pastry cloth.

All Signs Point To End Of Fighting In Korea Within The Week But Swiss Cause Worry

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

PANMUNJOM (AP) — United Nations and Communist truce negotiators—their work apparently all but finished—today handed staff officers the job of putting a Korean armistice into final form, then recessed indefinitely.

All signs still pointed to a cease-fire within the week, but these developments clouded the picture:

Rhee Won't Fly To D. C.

1. Switzerland announced it would not serve on the five-nation prisoner repatriation commission unless South Korea approves the truce.

2. South Korean leaders reiterated bitter opposition and anti-armistice demonstrations raged in Seoul for the second straight day.

3. A spokesman for Syngman Rhee dashed reports that the South Korean President will fly to Washington to make a personal appeal against the truce. Rhee, he said, will not leave Korea "at this time of grave situations."

Details of what went on at today's plenary session at Panmunjim were not disclosed, but the delegates presumably completed their work.

After 23 minutes, they recessed at Communist request subject to call by either side.

Subject To Call

Lower level officers then assembled in the tiny truce hut and reportedly went to work on a review of the cease-fire line that will separate Allied and Red forces during a truce.

They met for an hour and 36 minutes, then adjourned until Thursday.

"Yankee Go Home"

Meanwhile, thousands of Korean youths snaked through Seoul streets in apparently well-organized demonstrations.

Shouting "Yankee go home!" they marched on U. N. and U. S. buildings, but were held back by military police.

In Washington, the Swiss move worried officials. The State Department reportedly made it plain to the Swiss legation that it hoped Switzerland would reconsider.

Four Others Will Serve

U. S. authorities feared that unless Switzerland changes its mind, final agreement on the truce would be delayed.

The other four nations named to take custody of the prisoners—India, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia—were expected to serve. w9uld.

Despite South Korea's violent opposition to any truce that leaves the devastated country divided. American officials reportedly were still hopeful the defiant Rhee would be persuaded to go along with an armistice and not carry out its threat to keep on fighting.

ON WAY TO BELGIAN CAPITAL — Spectators line the street to watch the strung-out field leave Dammartin-en-Goele on the outskirts of the French capital at the start of the annual Paris-to-Brussels bicycle race. The event was won by Loreto Petrucci of Italy

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — Harry Gross, recent graduate of the elementary education department of Shippensburg State Teachers College, and husband of Mrs. Queenie Feiser Gross, teacher of the local primary department, will begin teaching at West Manchester Twp., York Co., in September. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gross, near Holtzschwamm, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Eli J. Gross, this place.

Among those recently receiving degrees at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., was Charles Bernard Wallace, Berlin Heights, who has been taking a course there along with his teaching and principalship of West Manchester Twp., York County schools.

The Rev. and Mrs. Stewart Bortner, who had been living in Lancaster while he studied at the theological seminary there, are spending the summer in their apartment at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Alton M. Leister, at the Reformed parsonage, while the Rev. Mr. Bortner assists Rev. Leister with the duties of his five churches.

Pfc. Robert Burgard Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burgard, who left here for Newville several years ago, is in the 21st Medical Co., 24 Div., Camp Schimmelpfennig, near Sendai, Japan. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Salisbury, is remaining at her parental home in the Newville area.

Mrs. Archie M. Pentz, near Brown's Dam, has returned from a visit to Harrisburg where she was called last week because of the sudden death of her brother, Philip J. Arnold, 70.

John McIntire, who has been hospitalized at Gettysburg for the second time this year, is slightly improved but remains in a serious condition.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hinkel, who have been living near Brown's Dam since he retired from railroading several years ago, was celebrated quietly May 31 by a visit from a party of friends from Florida where the Hinkels spent several recent winters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanton DeBolt, who are preparing to move to Carlisle this summer because they both have obtained positions there, have purchased a property in that area. Mrs. DeBolt, formerly Miss Beatrice A. Myers, will be a public school teacher in Carlisle in the fall.

Evelyn L. Inskip, daughter of Granville L. Inskip, west of town, who has been a student at the local high school, has left to spend the summer vacation in the Philadelphia area wiht her sister, Mrs. George Niedehammer, and family.

John Philips, who entered the army in December and who has been training in Texas, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harper J. Philips. He is a graduate of the 1950 class of East Berlin High School.

Carroll F. Thompson, near Spring Grove, former agriculture instructor at the local high school, has been among those directing the agronomy contest which is part of the three-day Activities Week program of the statewide FFA conducted at Penn State College this week.

WORKING WITH OTHERS HELP TO YOUNGSTERS

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
The Associated Press

A child's mental balance, his emotional and spiritual well-being, his success in work, in family and community life — all hinge on the way he relates himself to other human beings.

I talked with Mrs. Victoria Wagner, principal of the Ethical Culture Society's Midtown School, about the problem of human relations. Now celebrating its 75th anniversary, the Society, she says, has been concerned from its inception with this kind of education and the special understanding called for on the part of administrators, teachers and parents who must develop these skills in the child.

This kind of education, she says, requires parents and teachers alike to be concerned with the way the child plays with others, takes his turn, shares materials, senses the needs and respects the rights of his fellows; and equally important, the degree to which he feels accepted and makes himself an active member of his group and the larger school community.

Such concerns cannot be left to change, she says. "For example, in the Ethical Culture schools, our 'shop work' is ideally suited to education in co-operation. Each child has a chance to share toolsand facilities, help one another with ideas and skills and feel an obligation to consider the needs and safety of co-workers."

Learn Discipline

In addition, she points out, children learn the proper respect for materials and tools. They are taught that putting away materials carefully and keeping tools and equipment in good shape not only makes life easier for themselves but for the next class as well. Splashing paint may destroy some one else's treasured creation. Distracting a neighbor's attention while he is using a machine may lead to an accident. This consideration for other people is a part of human relations. Says she:

"Shop work, with the tiniest child, can be fun. There should be no forced competition. Once having learned fundamentals, each child should be free to choose his own project. He should be encouraged to develop individual expression. However, each job ably turned out — a smoothly sand-papered piece, a good varnish finish, a well designed bowl on the lathe — encourages others to do better work."

In the home, she says, parents should plan things to do with their children. They should help to bring out their children's ideas and desires and then work them out together.

Work Not Perfect

Children should be taught to use real tools, just like dad's. Working side by side, the child soon learns how to use tools the right way, the safe way, she says.

The one fault parents have is to judge their children's work by adult standards, she cautioned. "Don't make a fetish of perfection. Rather, think of the child's accomplishments on the basis of his maturity. On the other hand, the child derives no satisfaction from praise for something he knows is not good. A parent should know what a child can do and whether on the basis of this knowledge a child's work deserves praise."

In a setting such as this, concludes Mrs. Wagner, the young person can develop a reverence for craftsmanship. Putting aside his personal likes and dislikes, he comes to recognize that skill merits recognition in its own right.

Richard Myers, this section, was best man at the recent wedding of Herbert Thomas Hartlaub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hartlaub, Red Lion R. 1, and Miss Margaret Romaine Grove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Grove, also of the Red Lion area, who were married in Bethlehem Church of the Felton EUB Charge.

Take advantage of scallions, now in spring markets, to give flavor to dishes. Chop them and add to scrambled eggs or a hard-cooked egg salad. Slice them and mix with lettuce and a vinegar-sugar dressing. Mince them fine and add them to cream cheese for a savory sandwich spread.

249 TORNADOES SET NEW MARK FOR 35 YEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said today there have been 249 tornadoes reported in the country so far this year and that this may be a record for the 35 years in which tornado counts have been kept.

Damage and deaths are running higher this year than usual but no individual month's record has been broken, the bureau said.

Reports through last Monday listed 352 deaths in tornadoes this year. This total does not include perhaps 75 or more unofficially recorded deaths since then. A tornado which swept through parts of Missouri, Indiana and Illinois in March, 1925, killed 689 persons many more than this year's toll.

No Atomic Connection

In the past 35 years, the Weather Bureau said, the nation has averaged 109 tornadoes in the first six months of the year, with an average of 202 deaths.

Milton L. Blanc, chief of the Weather Bureau's local and special services section, said there was no possible connection between the spate of tornadoes this year and the series of atomic test explosions in Nevada during the spring. He said an atomic explosion is "a small thing" compared to the tremendous forces unleashed by nature in a tornadoe, which may strike with winds whirling at up to 500 miles an hour at its center.

PRO-WESTERN COALITION IN ITALY WINS BY NARROW EDGE

ROME (AP) —Premier Alcide de de Gasperi's pro-Western government coalition won a narrow 16-vote majority in the lower house of Italy's Parliament today, but trailed the combined opposition of extreme left and right parties in the popular vote by 115,000 ballots.

A government spokesman announced that the NATO-allied center bloc won 303 of the total 590 seats in the Chamber of Deputies. De Gasperi's forces already had won a much-reduced, seven-seat majority in the Senate—125 of the 243 places.

In the popular vote, the official tabulation gave the government bloc 13,487,036 to 13,602,156 for the combined opposition.

The government said, however, that it might still win a popular majority because some 1,250,000 invalid votes—most of them so far ruled out by contests from the oppositionists—still were subject to review.

The announcement gave this distribution for the new chamber of deputies as a result of the races in the individual elective districts:

Government bloc: Christian Democrats (de Gasperi's party) 262 (loss of 44), Moderate Socialists 19 (14), Liberals 14 (one), Republicans five (five), South Tyrol People's party three.

Opposition:

Communists 143 (gain of 11), pro-Communist Socialists 75 (gain of 27);

Monarchists 40 (gain of 27), Fascist MSI (Italian Social Movement) 29 (gain of 23).

Center Parties Slip

The difference between the government losses and the opposition gains was covered by the loss of seats by independents and splinter parties.

The results of the two-day national election showed that despite a huge turnout of more than 28 million voters, the center parties had slipped badly in popularity since the last parliamentary voting, in 1948.

In that election, de Gasperi's forces won 364 of the 574 deputies' seats and 196 in the senate, which then numbered 334 members.

The government's new margin was so slim that illness or enforced absence of any of de Gasperi's supporters from the chamber could provoke a crisis in the legislature, the sort of thing that has plagued France ever since the war.

HOPING SWISS WILL SERVE ON PW COMMISSION

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials expressed hope today that Switzerland would reconsider its refusal to participate in a five-nation prisoner of war commission in Korea unless South Korea agrees to the prospective truce.

This attitude is understood to have been made plain to the Swiss legation here by the State Department.

Unless Switzerland changes its decision, authorities feared the whole question of commission membership might have to be reopened between the United Nations Command and the Communists. That would delay and complicate final agreement terms, which may otherwise be reached with a few days.

Swiss Minister Charles Bruggman delivered a note to the State Department last night giving notice of his government's attitude a few hours after the decision was made at Bern.

The Swiss Federal Council (cabinet) said in a statement that Switzerland could not serve on the commission unless the mandate to do so "were received from all parties to the Koreah conflict, including South Korea," and unless Switzerland were permitted to exercise it in full independence and in the common interest of both sides in the conflict."

V Alexis Johnson, deputy assistant secretary for Far Eastern affairs, who accepted the note, reportedly told Bruggmann it was hoped his government would re-examine its position and agree to serve.

Koreans Demand Chinese All Leave Korea, Dissolve Army

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The South Korean National Assembly called Tuesday for "all necessary measurers" at the front lines "to prevent another Communist aggression and be prepared for a northward advance."

The Assembly also voted unanimously—129 to 0—to reject any armistice unless it provides for the withdrawal of Chinese Communist forces and dissolution of the North Korean Army.

The lawmakers shouted their approval of a four-point resolution reaffirming South Korea's opposition to an impending truce and threatening to fight on alone.

"In order to prevent another Communist aggression and be prepared for a northward advance, all necessary measures must be taken quickly at the front lines as well as in the rear area," the resolution said.

This was not further explained immediately, but observers said the Assembly apparently was recommending that the South Korean Army prepare to fight on.

The first point of the resolution read:

"No cease-fire agreement will be accepted unless and until the ROK five-point principles on a truce and President Syngman Rhee's three-point proposal to President Eisenhower are adopted."

The five-point principals call for North Korean Army to be dissolved and Chinese evacuation of all Korea.

Rhee's three-point proposal called for a mutual assistance pact with the U. S. and continued American military aid and support.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told Senators Tuesday the new Pentagon command intends to continue the buildup of U. S. air power but is against asking for new funds that can't be spent prudently and properly.

He said that the expectation of 120 wings for the Air Force by the end of 1955 doesn't mean the new administration has "set aside the 143-wing basis."

YANKEE DOWNS TWO MORE MIGS

SEOUL (AP)—Maj. James W. Jabara of Wichita, Kan., America's first jet ace, shot down two MIGs today to boost his score to 11 and become the sixth double jet ace of the Korean War.

Jabara, on his second combat tour in Korea, is credited with three probables and eight damaged MIGs in addition to the 11 kills.

Jabara maneuvered one MIG into crashing and shot down the other. He was on his 97th mission.

Another MIG was probably destroyed by Lt. Fred L. Hughes of Akron, O.

Thunderjet and Sabre jet fighter-bombers hit two Red airfields in North Korea.

Only brief skirmishes flared along the muddy battlefront. Patrols prowled through no man's land to make sure no surprise attack was in the offing.

Sabre fighters protecting fighter-bombers bumped into Red MIGs over North Korea but reported no hits.

During the night 40 B26 bombers attacked Red positions along the Western and Central Fronts.

Long-Drawn Peace Sessions, Danger Of European Letdown Are Big Problems Facing Ike

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the long run the Korean peace talks—if they ever get started—may cost this country more than the Korean War through damage to relations between the United States and its allies.

Because he must try to prevent that, President Eisenhower's greatest problems lie ahead. His task, while the war lasted, was comparatively simple. He could concentrate on getting the shooting stopped. The Allies stood united on that.

If the shooting does cease, Eisenhower's popularity in this country will reach its highest point since the election. And if he can achieve a good peace settlement, the Republican party will probably win next year's elections.

Peace Prospects Gloomy

But, judging from the fact that it took years just to get a truce, the odds are against any peace settlement within a year. Eisenhower will have his hands full to keep from losing the peace and, therefore, the war.

At this moment the greatest block to Russian expansion is the unity and military alliance between the U. S. and Western Europe. But cracks in that unity have already appeared.

The Allies, who stood shoulder to shoulder on getting a truce in Korea, do not see eye to eye on the many and varied post-truce problems. For example: Should Red China be admitted to the United Nations?

This country's attitude: No. But the British have talked of it. Sir Winston Churchill was asked about it yesterday but hedged. And yesterday, the British Commonwealths said they want Red China in the U. N. eventually.

The Russians will be better off than before the Korean War began if they can (A) use the peace talks to widen free world differences; (B) create between the Allies an ill will which didn't exist before Korea and (C) kid them into halting their rearming.

The U. S. is still young, still growing, the most powerful single nation. In spite of their great age, Russia and China, under the whip of Communist leadership, have obtained a new drive. They are on a crusade.

Between these two spheres of enormous and expanding energy Western Europe lies old and tired, wanting nothing so much as peace, fearing nothing so much as a Russian attack or an act by this country which might bring on the attack.

Tired And Fear War

The Western Europeans were able to call on such energy as they still had left to rearm when, frightened by the invasions of Korea, they thought they might be next on the Russian timetable.

But as the war dragged on, even though the U. S. bore almost all the cost to the West in men and money, the Western Europeans gradually grew tired of it.

That they were still tired, basically and profoundly, in spite of their spurt to rearm became apparent when the new Russian regime began talking peace. Western Europe leaped at the thought and slowed rearming.

Russia may have won some psychological advantage from the three years of war in Korea. Before that, Western Europe, knowing Russia could crush it, failed to arm, seeming incapable of doing more than hoping Russia wouldn't move.

With the passage of three years without a Russian attack, Western Europe, or at least those Western Europeans who would rather depend on hope than self-reliance and preparation, can soothe themselves with a belief Russia won't attack at all.

Even in this country, Eisenhower may have difficulty preventing a letdown in arming. It will be doubly hard for him to keep Western Europe from sliding back into inertness.

His problems will be not only with the Chinese and the Russians but with the leaders of the Western democracies too.

Got some stale cake you want to use? Crumble it up to make about a cup of coarse crumbs; mix the crumbs with a quarter cup of butter or margarine and a quarter cup of sugar that have been creamed together. Sprinkle the mixture over a baking-powder coffee cake before it goes into the oven. Delicious!

MICHIGAN DEATH TOLL NOW 139; BEGIN CLEANUP

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—As the second dawn rose on the wreckage left by a string of Michigan and Ohio tornadoes, crews resumed cleanup work and the long search for more dead.

Worst hit in the roaring winds that whirled down out of Monday evening's dark skies were the northern outskirts of this industrial city. The dead here were counted at 111.

But twisters took at least eight other gigantic swipes to kill a total of 139, injured more than 1,000 and do possibly 15 million dollars in property damage.

All Bodies Found

Eight died in the Cleveland area, eight in Wood County, Ohio, and one each in Elyria, O., and Ceylon, O.

In Michigan, four were killed in Erie, just across the Ohio line, four in Tawas, a northern resort town, and one each in the Ann Arbor area and the tiny Lapeer County village of Brown City.

State Police Capt. Lawrence Meehan, in charge of hundreds of police still on the scene north of Flint, reported that workers were convinced they had found all bodies.
